AQAR
2023-2024

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities :

Through an IQAC established up in compliance with standards, the institution regularly examines its teaching-learning process, operational structures and procedures, and learning outcomes. It also keeps track of the little improvements made in a variety of areas. The teaching-learning process is regularly observed and evaluated by the IQAC, which serves as the college's governing body. In response to criticism, a variety of innovative initiatives and enhancements were put into practice.

The improvements based on feedback implemented are:

A) IQAC periodically reviews the teaching-learning process, structures & methodologies of operations, and learning outcomes:

The standard methods of teaching, learning, and evaluation which are proven over the years are being followed.

Academic Calendar:

The Institute plans the academic calendar well in advance at the beginning of the year, taking into account the University Academic Calendar. This allows for a variety of events, including seminars, guest lectures, workshops, FDPs, hands-on series, and much more, in addition to the regular teaching-learning process.

Preparation of lesson plan for each Semester:

Faculty members create lesson plans for all of the courses they teach throughout that semester. Adding guest lecturers, industry visits, and internships to the curriculum.

Daily lecture Record:

Everyday faculties prepare and submit details of the lecture along with the topic covered.

Evaluation of teachers by students:

There is a feedback system at the college where students can rank their instructors. Students provide a comprehensive picture of the challenges they face through their regular evaluations of their instructors, feedback on teaching strategies, course delivery, attitude, strengths and shortcomings, and topic-related concerns. The principal and management keep a close eye on the feedback mechanism and take appropriate corrective action when needed.

Student learning outcomes:

The school regularly keeps an eye on the students' progress. It has a procedure for gathering and examining information on the educational achievements of students; in this regard, the institute has accepted the following points:

1. Consistent class tests and interactions
2. Midterm and continual evaluation, which includes internal examinations, assignments, group discussions and seminar presentations.
3. Semester examination system for all courses.
4. Providing pupils with a question bank covering a variety of areas.
5. Making lecture notes available via an internet gateway
6. Prompt resolution of student issues.
7. Each semester, at least 75% attendance is required.
8. Extra lessons for struggling pupils to help them address their challenges.

Effective internal examination and evaluation systems:

The Institute is equipped with a robust internal examination and assessment system.

Students' result analysis:

After the results of the semester are announced, the college offers an overview of the performance of the students. When a student does poorly on a topic, the necessary steps are done to find out why, and the faculty members who are affected are encouraged and urged to work harder.

Student Mentorship Scheme introduced & implemented in the even semester of Academic session:

The Student Mentorship Scheme is an initiative of the institute designed to help students develop holistically in terms of knowledge enhancement and personality progress.

Process of Program:

Three essential participants make up the mentor-mentee program: students, a senior student member, and an experienced faculty mentor. There are two distinct roles that mentors can play: The mentor serves two purposes:

- 1) The career-related function, which involves offering guidance to improve the mentee's professional performance and development; and
- 2) The psychosocial function, which positions the mentor as the mentee's mental support system and role model.

A faculty-wise average of 40 students serving as mentees under the guidance of a single mentor is one of the standards that the institution administration has set in response to the success of the mentoring program. Students are assigned a single mentor to facilitate clear communication between the mentor and the student body for optimal progress.

After the mentor-mentee ratio was established and put into practice, students felt inspired and encouraged to ask their mentor for help. Throughout the academic year, students took part in a variety of activities. There are two methods used to evaluate student achievement in this semester-based course. Performance in teamwork, creative behavior, communication skills, and personal involvement were evaluated prior to the mentor-mentee course.

A performance evaluation is conducted using the same set of indicators six months after the program's successful completion (semester end). After completing the program, students showed better attendance, higher engagement in the classroom, increased wellbeing, and decreased absenteeism. As a result, through decentralization and participatory administration, all teaching staff students are involved in the efficient planning of various academic and cultural events. Once a semester, a regular parent-teacher conference is held to facilitate communication, get input from parents, and make any adjustments.

1.1.2 - The institution adheres to the academic calendar including for the conduct of Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE)

The academic calendar is followed by Bapuraoji Butle Arts, Narayanrao Bhat Commerce, and Bapusaheb Patil Science College Digras District Yavatmal, including the conduct of CIE. Before the start of each semester, the University issues an academic calendar for all programmes, which includes the start date, last working day of the semester, internship schedule, and dates for semester-end examinations.

Bapuraoji Butle Arts Narayanrao Bhat Commerce & Bapusaheb Patil Science College Digras District Yavatmal carefully adheres to the University's timetable and prepares all of its activities, including Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE). The institute creates an institute-level calendar, and then each department creates its own calendar. The Institute's event calendar provides information such as the overall number of working days and holidays, CIE dates, and dates for the Institute's flagship programmes. Guest lectures, seminars, and industrial visits, as well as other co-curricular and extra-curricular activities, are all part of the department's schedule. Except for unexpected situations, academic activities, CIE, and other activities are carried out in accordance with the timetable of events.

Academic calendars assist faculty members in planning their course delivery, research, academic, and co-curricular activities. Department heads oversee and monitor the fulfillment of the syllabus in accordance with the lesson plan created by faculty members. Each CIE's syllabus coverage is determined in advance, and faculty members adhere to it.

Internal Assessment (IA) examinations, assignments, quizzes, and seminars are all part of a student's Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE). According to the event schedule, there is a well-defined method for conducting CIE. The course instructors create IA question papers based on the updated Bloom's Taxonomy and the assessment scheme, which are evaluated by the stream coordinator and approved by the department Head. The examination committee prepares an internal assessment test timeline, which is distributed to stakeholders and followed. Course Instructors are responsible for administering post-IA examinations, evaluating response scripts, and calculating CO-PO/PSO achievement.

Laboratory courses, project work, seminars, and internships are all subject to continuous review and assessment. The key components of laboratory course evaluation are the conduct of laboratory experiments and viva, as well as the submission of records. The internal test is given at the conclusion of the semester, according to the laboratory rubrics.

The Principal examines the semester's progress and makes appropriate comments at academic committee meetings. In the event that the university revises the academic calendar, the institution makes the required revisions.

INTRODUCTION

Plants have been used by humans even before we come to be Homo sapiens because we are omnivores plants have been an important part of our diet. for a long time, as well as the diet of our ancestors.

History of Botany

Botany appears to have had originated as far back as the Stone Age. Early man's interest may have been simply to learn what different herbs & plants could be used as food. This could be seen as an early & basic form of plant classification, grouping them as edible & inedible. Written manuals for the use of herbs in medicine existed as far back as 3000 BC in Mesopotamia & China while. The Egyptians also wrote much on the medicinal uses of plants the study of botany, the earliest written botanical information that we possess today came from the Greeks.

The term 'botany' itself probably come from the Greek words botanikos (botanical) and botane (plant or herb). The Greek philosopher Aristotle collected information about plants but it was really his student Theophrastus [371-286 B.C]. who inherited his teacher's library & began to devise more complex systems of plant classification he is sometimes referred to as the "Father of Botany".

Plants were exchanged & studied in early cultures, but it wasn't until Columbus began his voyages in 1492 that we have record of the interchange of plants between the Eastern & western Hemisphere. Columbus left Spain to search for new routes & Sources for importing spices from the East. He returned from his voyages with corn and other crop plants. In 1603 Adrian van der Spiegel (1578-1625) published instructions on producing dried herbarium specimens in isagoges in Rem Herbarium. Linnaeus, who is often called the father of Taxonomy was first botanists to embrace the practice of extensive travel for fieldwork. It is reported that between 1745 and 1792 nineteen of Linnaeus's students went of to distant lands to collect new plant specimens.

The variety of life on Earth & its biological diversity is commonly referred to as biodiversity. The number of species of plants, animals & microorganisms, the enormous diversity of genus in these species; the different ecosystems on the planet such as deserts, rainforests and coral reefs are all part of a biologically diverse Earth. Biological diversity

Polyalthia longifolia* (sonn.) Thw.

Family - Annonaceae

Common Name – Devdar (M), Ashok (H), False ashoka tree (E).

Distribution -

Monoon longifolium, the false ashoka, also commonly known by its synonym Polyalthia longifolia. Native in india. It is introduced in gardens in many tropical countries around the world.

Habit of Polyalthia longifolia (sonn.) Thw.

RESULT

Wood is one of the prime sources of forest products and it has been consistently used around the globe for thousands of years. The society has possessed good knowledge of furniture, house construction etc. However, their high exploitation & continuous exposure to modernization may result in extinction of the plants in the forest or outside forest. Diversity of trees mostly used timber species e.g. Tectona grandis, Mangifera indica.

Timber is dominant constituent of forests which is considered as the most important and valuable forest resources. It has immense importance to the living organism & to derive the nation's economy. It played an important role in the economy of state and is an asset to the country. Timber is an important source of raw materials of various industries and provides much needed wood, fuel, paper, rayon, softwood, tannin, gums, resins and wax. [Premavani et.al (2014)]. Moreover, tribe communities and the villagers use timber for various purposes i.e agricultural implements.

In Digras Tahsil many types of trees are found which play an important role in our life. They found on Playground, Campus of schools, Colleges, Parks etc. The most of primary needs of human beings are fulfilled by the trees. The trees species have medicinal importance, use in furniture & also have great value. They provide food, shelter, medicine & tools. Various types of trees found in & around Digras Tahsil such as Timber Yielding Trees-Babul, Mango. Medicinal trees such as Neem etc. From the pre-historic time they are use by quality of air & decrease the pollution of the area. These timber tree species contribute to the shaping & microbial communities.

During the project work, 30 plant species were studied which are belonging to 15 families. Fabaceae have (10) plant species, Rutaceae (4), Myrtaceae (2), Moraceae (2), Verbenaceae (2) all remaining families have single member like Annonaceae, Anacardiaceae, Combretaceae, Bignoniaceae, Apocynaceae, Meliaceae, Bombacaceae, Sapotaceae, Simaroubaceae, Rhamnaceae. The timbers of Tectona grandis (Verbenaceae) have a very high quality. All the studied plant species are trees having great value of timber, which are used for many household properties for making toys, construction materials.
